of Otter Tail County

How can SPECIAL EVENTS help my campaign?

A fun campaign makes your job more enjoyable and creates increased awareness of United Way of Otter Tail County among your co-workers. With that in mind, we've compiled some creative sparks—examples of ideas and events – to help ignite an exciting and effective employee campaign. We've included simple campaign promotions, as well as unique, successful special events that companies have sponsored in the past.

Remember that not everything you do has to make money. Sometimes just getting together for fun and team-building can be a good way to remind people about the campaign. Use this booklet as a starting point to help develop ideas tailored to your company's theme. Many companies also like to include fun activities in their kickoff or as a thank you to their employees for contributing to a great campaign.

Event Planning Tips

- Name a special event chair and ask him or her to create a special event team to share the duties and spread the enthusiasm
- Decide if the goal of the event is to raise awareness, boost employee morale, raise money or all three
- Put together a budget and determine prizes (see suggestions within this guide)
- Choose an event that's a good match for your work environment and employees
- Select a date that doesn't conflict with other company events
- Reserve an easily accessible location and get approvals
- Assign responsibilities to team members (publicity/promotions, prizes, food, decorations, volunteer recruitment, etc.)
- Inform your United Way representative of your special event(s) and ask for any help and/or advice you may need
- Schedule a run-through a day or two before the event
- Take pictures at the event and give them to your United Way representative
- After the event, evaluate its success, make notes for next year's committee and report the results to employees and your United Way representative
- Send thank you notes to everyone who helped make the event a success, including volunteers and vendors who donated food and prizes.

10 Ways to Get the Word Out

1. email/intranet messages
2. company intranet postings
3. articles and ads in employee newsletter
4. payroll stuffers
5. calendar of campaign events
6. posters/fliers/banners: elevators, stair wells, inside of restroom stall doors, cafeteria, water cooler, break area, coffee machine
7. announcements at staff meetings
8. table tents
9. piece of candy or event-related item with a reminder tied to it
10. voicemail messages

Need an idea for an incentive? These work well...

- bonus vacation days
- gift certificates donated by local merchants
- golf lessons
- mugs, t-shirts, key chains, etc., with company logo *
- one share of company stock
- movie passes or lottery tickets
- sleep-in-late or leave-work-early certificates
- traveling trophy for department with highest participation or percentage increase
- casual days
- job swap (boss does winner's job for a day)
- flowers every month for a year
- department pizza party
- candy
- prime parking spaces or free parking
- day off to volunteer
- chair or hand massage
- cafeteria coupons
- homemade craft or cooking donated by employees
- buttons/pins *
- lunch or dinner with CEO
- gift baskets or goodie bags
- early dismissal on a Friday
- employee-designed t-shirts
- a trip (using company frequent-flyer miles)
- open pop machine if company reaches goal

\ consider ordering custom items with your organization's and United Way's logo from an advertising specialties company or from the United Way Store (unitedwaystore.com)*

- summer or fall holiday (4th of July, Oktoberfest, Halloween, Labor Day)
- the 1950s, 1960s, 1970s or 1980s

Apple Pie Bake-off

Find out which employee can make the best apple pie. Hold a competition in which employees can put their family recipes to the test. On the day of the event, sell taste tickets and have employees vote on the best apple pie maker in the company. Award a prize for the winner.

Baby Picture Contest

Employees bring in a baby picture of themselves and staff guesses who is who. Charge an entry fee for employees to submit their guesses. The person with the most correct answers wins a prize.

Balloon Pop

Employees donate prizes for this event—a variation of a traditional raffle. Before filling a balloon with helium, put a note inside with the name of a prize. Employees pay $1 to buy a balloon and pop it to find out what prize they've won. Include a United Way fact in each balloon.

Basket Auction

Ask each department at your organization to sponsor, create and fill a theme basket (spa day, chocolate, golf, cooking). The baskets are then auctioned off. This event is a great way for folks to show off their creativity and caring

Be A Hero With Roses

Purchase long-stemmed roses to sell on Sweetest Day. Talk to a flower wholesaler for better rates.

Candy Sale

Purchase your employees' favorite candy to sell. Place candy in a prominent area where employees will be tempted to satisfy their sweet tooth.

Classy Brown-Bag Lunch

Charge a small fee for attendance at a series of brown bag lunch classes where attendees have the opportunity to learn a new skill (flower arranging, pottery painting), relieve some stress (yoga, time management) or improve their health (heart healthy cooking). Ask an area teacher or trainer to donate his or her time and/or ask your United Way representative to tap the resources of an expert from one of our partner agencies.

Company Olympics

Teams participate in Olympic events, such as wastebasket paper ball free throws, balance a Styrofoam cup on a serving tray while navigating an obstacle course, make a paper airplane and fly it the longest distance, make the longest paper clip chain in one minute or staple, fold, and stuff letters into envelopes in one minute. Teams pay to participate, and the company buys prizes or lunch for the winning team.

Compliment-O-Gram

Make up special forms and sell them to office employees as a way to give a compliment to a fellow employee. Charge $1 per compliment or $2 if they wish to remain anonymous.

Creative Tie Contest

Divide up into different teams within the office. Each team should use its creative talent to "design" a tie. Put the ties on display for a few days or for the duration of the campaign. Put a container with each tie to collect money for the best tie. The tie with the most money wins. Designate someone within the company to model the winning tie and wear it for the entire day wherever he or she goes.

eBingo

Sell Bingo cards for a small fee. Send emails sporadically throughout the week with one or two Bingo numbers each time. The first person to get Bingo should let everyone know by sending an email to all users, and, of course, she or he will win a prize.

Employee Cookbook

Collect recipes from employees. Then retype your collection and group it into sections. Sell the cookbook for a nominal fee. Consider having an employee's child provide the cover artwork. Books can be printed and bound by a local business. See if you can get this service done pro bono. Plan for an enthusiastic response!

Employee Funniest Videos

Employees submit videos of their craziest moments. Participants donate a nominal fee to watch the videos. Observers choose their favorite video.

Executive Receptionist

Put together a board with head shot pictures of company executives. Place an envelope below each picture for "votes." The executive who receives the most contributions of money in their envelope wins the honor of being "receptionist for the day." As the time draws near to the end of the "voting" period, you may see large contributions being made to ensure a certain executive wins!

Got Games?

Educate employees about United Way and its partner agencies in a fun way by incorporating a game show theme. Use information from United Way printed material, web site (www.uwotc.com) and our partner agencies Web sites to create quizzes inspired by different game shows. Play the game(s) at a group meeting or give everyone the opportunity to play by creating a worksheet or posting questions online. A few ideas...

- Jeopardy: Have 10 "answers" about United Way; have employees write down the corresponding "questions."

- The Price is Right: Employees guess how much of a United Way contribution could be used for a specific service or program ($1, $5 or $10 a week). See www.uwotc.com/Partner\_Programs.php for many examples.
- Let's Make a Deal: Go around the office and ask random United Way-related questions ("Name two agencies that help older people," "Which United Way partner agency is closest to our office?"). Each time someone gets the answer right, give him or her a prize on the spot. Ask your CEO to go with you and hand out the prizes.

Halloween Pumpkin Carving Contest

How about a Halloween theme for your campaign this year? Have a pumpkin-carving contest. Charge a nominal fee to enter and vote. Award prizes in categories including best traditional pumpkin, most creative pumpkin, best effort by group or individual and best entry involving multiple pumpkins.

Hats Off to United Way

Designate a day as "Hat Day" and ask employees to wear their favorite hat to work. Award prizes for silliest hat, biggest hat, hat that most represents your company, etc.

Human Sundae

Place pictures of managers on jars in the company lobby. Employees can vote with their change for their favorite manager to be made into a human sundae. The winning manager is given a rain poncho and a shower cap and members of their department cover with ice cream, chocolate sauce, etc.

Jail-and-Bail Day

Designate an area to represent the jail or if you have a talented maintenance department have them construct one. Charge people to put someone in jail and also charge to get them out. Designate certain employees to be the "deputies" to take employees to jail. Make use of the time employees are in the jail by having them fold the United Way pledge forms for distribution or help with attaching them to employee paychecks.

Las Vegas Day

Convert your office or cafeteria into a Las Vegas Casino for the day. Conduct casino card, dice and wheel games. Provide food and drinks to sell during the event.

Miniature Golf

Create a two-hole course in a conference room area to test the skills of your employees. The lowest score (which may be decided by a tiebreaker) will take home a tacky sports coat. Interested employees return an entry form, pay a nominal fee and bring a putter the day of the event. A variation of this event would be to create a tiny golf course in the parking lot of your organization and use child-sized golf clubs.

Mini Indy 500

Rent or borrow remote-controlled cars and set up an “Indy 500” race. Use office supplies to make the track more interesting. Teams can be sponsored to compete. Spectators can place bets on their favorite team or car.

Night at the Races

Obtain a video of real live horse racing. Set up booths to take bets on horse numbers. Solicit prize donations from local merchants. Offer food and refreshments and charge a donation fee to attend the event.

Old-Fashioned Carnival

Invite employees to an old-fashioned carnival, complete with cakewalks, bake sale, bubble blowing and 50-cent hotdogs. Have a hula hoop contest and hoop-shoot to give it that “flashback flavor.” Charge participants a fee to enter contests. Have a dunk tank with your favorite executives. Charge $2 for three balls. Have a pie-throwing booth with all your favorite executives as targets.

Outrageous Day

Employees who pledge a pre-determined amount get to dress as outrageously as they want (costumes). Invite employees to come to work dressed as their favorite United Way agency. This works well as a wrap-up event, if the campaign is over near Halloween. At one company, an employee dressed as a loaf of bread to represent a food pantry, another as a telephone to represent a crisis hotline and others came as day-care kids and Girl Scouts.

Penny Wars

Divide into teams, obtain large jars (ask area water cooler companies for a donation; they usually have lots of jars that are intact but are no longer watertight), and have the teams decorate them. Put pennies in your jar to increase the score and sabotage others by adding silver coins and dollar bills, which decrease the score.

Silent Auction

Ask vendors to donate items, ask employees to donate handmade items, solicit gift certificates from local restaurants, etc. Put the items on display in a prominent area of the company. At a designated time, close the bidding. Then let employees know of the highest bid and continue the auction with one hour left to outbid it to win.

Stand Tall for United Way

For a donation, receive your height in raffle tickets. Everyone receives a minimum amount of tickets, but the taller you are, the better your chance of winning. Split the pot with United Way and the raffle winner.

Summer Get-A-Way Picnic

Host a summer picnic with a grilled lunch for employees. Raise money by conducting raffles and including games for prizes, e.g., an egg relay, tricycle races, water balloon toss and tug-of-war. Obtain prizes from vendors and local companies.

Tailgate Party

Consider creating a sports theme for your campaign since the United Way campaign period coincides with the football season. Sell football fare from a truck in the parking lot “tailgate” style. Offer hot dogs, popcorn, peanuts, soft drinks and other goodies. Organize a tag football game, with participants donating an entry fee and observers wagering on the outcome.

Take a Day Off for United Way

Employees “buy” a vacation day. When employees choose to participate, their wages from the day’s work are deducted from their paycheck. The organization may choose to match the amount deducted, with all proceeds donated to the campaign. This is a win-win situation: the organization achieves high participation, the employees get a vacation day and the community is helped.

Talent Show

Use your campaign theme to put on an employee talent show. Charge employees admission to the show. Sell popcorn for a snack as employees enjoy the show.

Ticket Giveaways

Free tickets for movies, theater productions, amusement centers and other local attractions can be a pledge incentive. Encourage employees to pledge $2 per week by giving two movie passes to every employee who meets that challenge.

Trash or Treasure Raffle

Ask employees to bring in a wrapped white elephant item... an unwanted, still usable (although not necessarily useful) object from their home. All who donate can get a raffle ticket, and when their name is called, they can choose one of the mystery items.

Turkey Giveaway

Use the Thanksgiving holiday as an inspiration for special events. Raffle off a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner. Purchase a turkey or ask employees to donate free turkey(s) earned from shopping.

Ugly Lamp Month

Use any white elephant (an ugly lamp works great) and offer the opportunity to purchase points to move the item to someone's workspace or to keep it out of your work area. Calculate and move daily, weekly, etc. Wherever it ends up at the end of the time period, it must stay for one month or until the next campaign.

Ugly Tie/Earring Contest

All contestants pay a nominal fee to enter the best awful earrings or ugly ties they own (or borrow). Choose a day that the voting will take place. Place voting boxes at various places around the office and charge $1 per vote. Have a parade for all contestants, offering a last chance to vote at the end of the day. Circulate the names of entrants the day before the event so employees can anticipate the voting. Take photos for use in the organization's newsletter.

Used Book Sale

Invite employees to donate books. Encourage them to bring their donations in early. Price paperbacks at $1 and hardbacks at $2. The leftover books can be donated to United Way agencies.

Valet Parking

Have management park employee cars and retrieve them at the end of the day. Prizes can be awarded for giving levels.

Who Knows the Nose?

Take a side picture of employees' noses and see who knows the most noses. Have employees contribute to participate in the guessing.
